Lions Code of Ethics

1. To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.
2. To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self-respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.
3. To remember that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.
4. Whenever a doubt arises as to the right or ethics of my position or action towards my fellow men, to resolve such doubt against myself.
5. To hold friendship as an end and not a means. To hold that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.
6. Always bear in mind my obligation as a citizen to my nation, my state and my community, and to give them my unswerving loyalty in word, act and deed. To give them freely of my time, labor and means.
7. To aid my fellow men by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.
8. To be careful with my criticisms and liberal with my praise; to build up and not destroy.

President's Message

Welcome Fellow Lions and Spouses,

This is our 25th Anniversary. It is only fitting to set aside a day to celebrate our accomplishments.

The original membership of 24 has tripled since our first meeting on June 14, 1971 in the Village of Elkhart Lake, and through our efforts, we have been able to raise more than $223,000.00 for worthy causes.

Anniversaries are a time to reflect upon a club's many accomplishments with pride. Because of our dedication, we have improved the lives of people in need in our own community and around the world. It is this steadfast commitment that has given our association its long and distinguished service history.

As we celebrate the past, we must also look toward the future. In order to continue serving those in need, it is important that our club also look inward to make sure they remain strong and dedicated. By fostering membership growth and developing leadership skills on all levels, we can ensure that our club will be able to serve the needs of our community well into the next century.

Sincerely,

Wm. Leynse
